The Sin of Doing Nothing

Therefore to him that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin (James 4:17). The meaning of this passage is clarified and enforced by some of Jesus' wonderful lessons.

THE GOOD SAMARITAN (Luke 10:25-37). The sin of the priest and Levite was that of passing by on the other side. The Samaritan commends himself to us because of his compassion and kindness - love in action.

THE RICH MAN AND LAZARUS (Luke 16:19-31). The fault of the rich man consisted not in cruelty but in neglect to minister to the man who had been laid at his gate. He did not do the good that was in his power to do (Proverbs 3:27).

THE TEN VIRGINS (Matthew 25:1-13). Though listed among the friends of the bridegroom, the five foolish virgins were barred because they had not prepared themselves for the occasion. The person who does not prepare his heart and life, in harmony with divine direction, will be confined to the darkness of the outside.

THE TALENTS (Matthew 25:14-30). The third servant was not a criminal. He had not been wasteful. He had buried (preserved) that which had been given to him. His sin was the failure to put into circulation the sum that had been entrusted to him.

THE SHEEP AND THE GOATS (Matthew 25:31-46). The people on the right side of the throne were blessed because of the deeds of love they had done; the people on the left were lost because they had not rendered service. No man should entertain the idea that the Lord will bless him merely because he does no evil. Positive goodness, as well as negative, is divinely required.

Kettering's Observation

Isn't our modern, technological world wonderful! Today we will eat food that was in a garden ten thousand miles away a week ago. We can walk into a store and find electronic equipment that gets smaller, more efficient, and even cheaper with each new model. We are no longer bound by the sun in our activities, and if we choose to go to Wal-Mart at midnight to do our grocery shopping, there is nothing to stop us. Each day we hear news from the other side of the world almost instantaneously.

And yet, as the late engineer and inventor Charles F. Kettering noted, "You can send a message around the world in one-fifth of a second, yet it may take years for it to get from the outside of a man's head to the inside."

Haven't you seen the truth of Kettering's words? A woman may have a friend tell her again and again about something that will revolutionize her life, and she may never accept the information, or a man may hear the gospel a thousand times before he obeys.

Since it sometimes takes us so long to understand, it is not surprising that the Bible is often repetitious. We have four accounts of the life of Christ, with some of the information from one book to another virtually the same. Some themes are hammered home again, and again. Writing to the church at Philippi, Paul said, "Finally, my brethren, rejoice in the Lord. To write the same things to you, to me indeed is not grievous, but for you it is safe" (Philippians 3:1). Paul necessarily had to repeat himself from time to time, to keep the brethren "safe."

You have heard these before. Have they gotten to the inside of your head?

"If ye love me, keep my commandments" (John 14:15).

"Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind" (Matthew 22:37).

"Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself" (Matthew 22:39).

"But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should show forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light" (1 Peter 2:9).

"And when ye stand praying, forgive, if ye have aught against any: that your Father also which is in heaven may forgive you your trespasses" (Mark 11:25).
