Be Careful What You Say

There are numerous statements in the Proverbs about the use of our tongues. We are warned about the sins we can commit with our words, but we are also encouraged about the good that can be done if we exercise caution in our speech. Consider these important truths:

Proverbs 15:1,2 "A soft answer turneth away wrath: but grievous words stir up anger. The tongue of the wise useth knowledge aright: but the mouth of fools poureth out foolishness."

Proverbs 29:11 "A fool uttereth all his mind: but a wise man keepeth it in till afterwards."

Proverbs 12:22 "Lying lips are abomination to the Lord: but they that deal truly are his delight"

Proverbs 12:18 "There is that speaketh like the piercings of a sword: but the tongue of the wise is health."

Proverbs 16:13 "Righteous lips are the delight of kings; and they love him that speaketh right"

Proverbs 10:11 "The mouth of a righteous man is a well of life: but violence covereth the mouth of the wicked."

Proverbs 10:20 "The tongue of the just is as choice silver the heart of the wicked is little worth."

Proverbs 15:4 "A wholesome tongue is a tree of life: but perverseness therein is a breach in the spirit"

Proverbs 25:11 "A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in pictures of silver."

Reasoning Together

When Relationships Struggle

In life, there are some events you can just count on. I've always heard that paying taxes and death are in that category but what about disagreements and hurts? Is it logical to conclude that since there's not a single person in this world who is without sin (Romans 3: 23), that disagreements and hurt in relationships are going to happen? I think we would all testify to this being true. That being the case, how should we, as children of God, handle such uncomfortable times? Consider these five basic teachings from Scriptures.

1. We must first realize that God wants reconciliation to occur, and we must want that as well (Matthew 5: 23-24).
2. We must be people who are peacemakers not those who seek to "stir the pot" (Matthew 5: 9).
3. We must be very slow to become angry, even when in difficult situations (James 1: 19-20).
4. When we do become angry, that does not give us free reign to say whatever we want nor to act in any way we desire. You can sin in your response (Ephesians 4: 26-27).
5. Your goal is not to drag as many people into your situation as possible. Rather you first need to handle this directly with the person who has wronged you or whom you have wronged (Matthew 18: 15-17).

Disagreements can be very uncomfortable; however, we can either help or hurt the situation by our attitudes and our actions. When the disagreements involve one's sin, out of love, that sin must be dealt with, and in the occasions that sin is not the cause of the disagreement, let's strive to make sure it doesn't become part of the problem. Even in these difficult moments, we must always seek to bring honor and glory to God. May God bless you this week as you walk with HIM!
